Subcommittees:

- Early Career Professionals

Stacy Worby

- Today's meeting was cancelled due to significant conflicts for committee members. Looking for more people to join the committee, and how to identify people that are eligible to join the committee. It's challenging to hold meetings when the in-person events the committee's focus is built on are not happening. They have considered using this time for shared interest group discussion when there is little business to be done.

Strategic Plan

Michelle Dunivan

Strategic Plan – National Association for Court Management \(nacmnet.org\)

- We reviewed the Membership section of the plan. In the first goal it was recognized that it will be difficult to achieve many of these goals with the limited access to data we have. In the second goal, the committee focused on ways to improve the Mentorship program. Ideas included providing guidance for mentees to identify goals through the mentorship, decide if they want NACM-related support or career support in this relationship, and track progress toward goals. To advertise the program, we could do an ongoing survey of all mentees who had ever been matched to see the benefits, perhaps even long after the mentoring relationship ended. Updated mentoring testimonials may also be useful for marketing the mentorship program, as well as NACM more broadly.

Membership Scholarship Drive

Michelle Dunivan

- The discussion started by acknowledging that there would be no discount for this round of scholarships. Based on that, we have enough for two scholarships, and the discussion centered around when to provide the scholarship, when and how to advertise for nominations, and when and how to advertise for donations to support more membership scholarships. The timing in conjunction with the possibly in-person Annual Conference.
- The committee decided the nomination and donation process should be heavily marketed through social media and at the education series. At least the two memberships that are available now should be awarded at the end of the education series, anticipating that one or both may use this membership to gain reduced-cost attendance to the annual conference.
