

EDUCATION COMMITTEE MEETING 2-3-22

MINUTES

The meeting commenced at 2:02 p.m. ET. Present in attendance: Norman Meyer, Kim Free, Erica Payne-Santiago, Peter Keifer, Jeff Chapelle, Kevin Bowling, Kelly Hutton, Karl Thoennes, TJ BeMent, Roger Rand, Joe Tommasino, Courtney Whiteside, Jude Del Preore, Erin Carr and Rick Pierce.

- Jude Del Preore gave an update on the Midyear Conference educational content and noted the extension of the Annual Conference call for proposals to Friday February 18, 2022.
- Tina discussed the CORE committee's progress on finalizing the curriculum review of the Operations Management competency, the commencement of the review of Court Governance competency and the inclusion of DEI (diversity, equity and inclusion) in all of the competencies has begun, starting with the Leadership competency.
- Norman led a discussion on the National Bankruptcy Court Clerks, LEAD Academy as an educational forum that could dovetail with the current CORE Champion program as a member benefit. Rick will discuss with the Board at their Midyear meeting.
- Rick noted the impressive progress made on certain NACM landing pages, specifically the state associations page and thanked Roger Rand and his staff for their efforts.
- TJ gave a brief summary as the DEI committee progress and its potential webinar on marginalized groups workforce experiences and strategies to become more inclusive and engage all. Working with Communications in creating this virtual training opportunity, Sarah Brown Clark and Rick plan to schedule this webinar for the second half of 2022.

Rick called for volunteers to be highlighted in the next issue of The Court Express.

Additionally, volunteers are sought for continued examination and expansion of the NACM educational repository. First steps may include working with Communications and Membership in encouraging members to provide materials to share with colleagues across the country.

With no additional business, the meeting was adjourned at 2:36 p.m. ET.
