Overview of 2020 Virtual Conferences

T. J. and Kathy led a discussion regarding the ongoing virtual conference and shared the statistics so far. Sarah inquired if there was a way to determine how long the participant stayed on the call, or just that they registered and started the session. Val indicated that it does show the peak time and total viewing for each session, but not individual times.

2021 Conference Themes and Call for Proposals

Kathy shared the 2021 conference themes and call for proposals page from the NACM website and encouraged everyone to share. Kathy and Jude have been meeting with various speakers to lineup plenaries. An email blast for the proposals has been sent along with a short survey to get a pulse from membership regarding how to proceed with the mid-year.

Val shared that we are working with the hotel in Jacksonville regarding options. Due to social distancing measures in place at the hotel we would be limited to 130 max capacity for our plenaries.

Kathy is looking for volunteers to review the call for proposals. Sarah, Elizabeth and Angie all volunteered. Kathy will follow up with them as the time approaches.
