GOALS

- Promote professional court management
- Enhance education and training
- Leverage NACM Core® Curriculum
- Create partnerships between courts
- Facilitate on-site visits
- Advocate for the rule of law
- Provide technical assistance, operational reviews, and skilled court management assistance

INTERNATIONAL COURT CONSULTING

CONSULTING

Many consulting groups are continuously looking for experienced court personnel with various areas of expertise for short (1-2 weeks) and long (up to three years) term assignments. It is intended that the International Subcommittee work will be a valuable contact point and resource for other countries and project leaders seeking contacts and administrators to provide specialized technical assistance.

STABILITY

Numerous court improvement projects are in progress around the world. Behind this activity is the realization that sustainable economic development depends in some measure on a stable, reliable court system and the call for improved standards of human rights where they have not been a priority in the past.

IMPROVEMENTS

The United States and other countries are engaged in consulting and education efforts that are helping many courts to improve. This includes work on the rule of law, democratic principles, and the role of courts. Several entities, including the USAID and the World Bank provide major funding for the projects.

NCSC

NCSC's International Programs Division implements justice sector assistance programs in Latin America and the Caribbean, the Middle East, Africa, Asia, and Eastern Europe. Programs address the full range of court improvements. For more about NCSC, see here.

RESOURCES

THE CORE®

NACM's competencies have been in use and practice for over 30 years, setting a standard of proficiency that further defined the court management profession and provided the basis for the development of local, state, and national educational and certification programming.
